How We Serve: LASE serves children with special learning needs by providing early childhood screenings, resource room and speech/language services, and educational consulting services.

The mission of LASE is to ...“develop the God-given potential in every child.” As you are introduced to the 2010 LASE Student Ambassadors, a heartfelt story will unfold that reveals the ministry’s impact on the lives of the special needs students they serve. Michael Fiore and Michael Powers are seventh grade students in the LASE program at Word of Life Lutheran School. They met in their early years of elementary school and quickly bonded as “best friends.” Their friendship and close bond brings out the best in each boy, even when academics are a challenge. They work well together, motivate each other, and rely on one another. While the boys have very different personalities, they enjoy their friendship and look forward to classes every day knowing they are in this journey together. Mrs. Debbie Weltmer, the boys’ Resource Room Teacher,

Michael Powers
Michael Fiore

LASE Student Ambassadors, Michael Powers & Michael Fiore

acknowledges the wonderful progress these friends have made in their school work, adding that they impress their teachers daily with their work ethic, cooperation and enthusiasm for school. Their seventh grade teacher, John Hohenstein, summed them up as, “Two Michaels with different last names, but they are brothers in spirit.” Their story is a true example to others of how a forever friend and caring teachers can help you reach your God-given potential.
